After a farm safety incident many years ago James and Phillipa together with their daughter and son-in-law James and Anna Webb have embarked on a journey to improve their farm safety. Milking 800 cows calving three times a year they maintain a high level of employee and farm safety through regular staff meetings, implementing many safety policies and maintaining a clean, tidy and orderly place of work.

Come Along to:

- Hear and see what James, Phillipa, James and Anna have implemented on their farm.
- Receive practical advice on your farm safety concerns from representatives from Worksafe Tasmania and Proactive Agricultural Safety and Support (PASS).
(This can be done anonymously by bringing your question on a piece of paper to place in the box provided. Questions will then be discussed by a Q&A style panel during the day.)

This day will provide you with the opportunity to not only have access to professional advice on any concerns you have on farm safety but also see what can be practically done on your farm.
